

Patient Safety- National Patient Safety Awareness Week

This week is National Patient Safety Awareness Week! In 1997 the National Patient Safety Foundation was created to promote the safety of both patients and healthcare providers, it has since turned into a time where we honor the patients we have lost to medical harm, raise awareness about the importance of safety, and promote patient safety education for our community. Initiatives worldwide have put into place to mitigate harm done to patients within the healthcare system; while many of them fall into the hands of healthcare workers, there are also things you can do as a patient to promote your own safety and wellbeing. See how you can be a safe patient.
